

Post-Coronavirus Learnings from Spirits in Latin America

October 2020

Table of Contents

Key findings

Swapping Johnnie Walker for Aguardiente

Contracting GDP causes declines across alcoholic drinks but strongest in spirits

Premiumisation stopped in its tracks

Categories sensitive to on-trade disruption will be slow to recover

The role of illicit alcohol

An L-shaped recovery for bars awaits

Pricing pressures impact imported drinks, encourage local

Downsizing: a solution for premium brands

How to target the post-COVID-19 consumer

Can e-commerce lift the category?

The return of tourism will revive on-trade sales in Latin America

Adapting will be key to recovery

About Euromonitor International

Euromonitor International is an independent market intelligence provider. Data, insight and analysis stem from in-the-field research spanning 210 national markets.

Content ranges from the in-depth and country-specific, to key strategic themes with a global range and significance. Products cover a comprehensive range of insights and market data, but can be broadly categorised as:

- Strategy Briefings: Global or regional in scope, and focussing on the most important themes shaping consumer demand, the key markets, competitive environment and future outlook across a range of industries.
- Company Profiles: Analysis dedicated to the world's most significant companies, with detailed insight into their activities, focus of operations, their competitors, their geographic presence and performance.
- Country Reports: For an in-depth understanding of specific countries, whether by industry, economic metrics or consumer trends and lifestyles. These reports cover current trends, consumer demand, market potential and future prospects, with country-specific local insight and comprehensive data, unavailable elsewhere.

For more information on this report, further enquiries can be directed via this link www.euromonitor.com/post-coronavirus-learnings-from-spirits-in-latin-america/report.