

Appliances for the Elderly Segment

December 2022

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION

Scope

The elderly as a growth segment

Why target the elderly?

Key findings

THE FUTURE HOME

Euromonitor International's The Future Home

Overview of Home and Technology strategic themes

An overview of the strategic theme: The Future Home

Aspects that give insight into how the future home will work

Companies are meeting consumer needs using various strategies

THE ELDERLY AS A GROWTH SEGMENT

The elderly is one of four underserved segments

Older households will spend five times more than the other categories combined

Overlooked consumers by region at a glance

Global population is greying fast

In the US, the elderly are predicted to account for 23% of the population in 2040

In the US, Baby Boomers are the richest consumers in recorded history

In Europe and North America, many older people prefer to live alone

Home-based healthcare and the companion home will be key home design concepts

Businesses must adapt to diverse needs and priorities of the ageing

APPLIANCES IN THE ELDERLY SPACE

Appliances will be an important part of future home designs for the elderly

Value-added services will be important to elderly consumers

Elderly consumer appliance trends

APPLIANCES IN THE ELDERLY SPACE – CASE STUDIES

Delisofter – a cooker that makes food soft without losing the texture

Panasonic's J Concept series targets the elderly segment

Online recipes will help the elderly have a balanced diet

Universities are also looking at this space

GE Appliances' Shift concept – adapting to different needs

Hoover's H-abitat is the first wellbeing ecosystem

Zojirushi's Mimamori i-Pot allows caregivers to monitor hot water usage

Daikin's room air conditioner monitoring system

Alexa Together – a remote caregiving service from Amazon

THE ELDERLY SEGMENT IN JAPAN

The elderly will account for 35% of the population in Japan in 2040

Without immigration into Japan, the society is ageing and shrinking

Japan is the proving ground for elderly care products

Direct marketing to the elderly segment does not work for some products

Targeting the elderly is effective for electronic goods

The elderly do adapt to new technologies, but often slowly

Marketing to a wider audience than just the elderly segment is more effective

Non-appliance case studies: Watami's bento delivery service

Non-appliance case studies: Preparing for death – the "ending note"

Non-appliance case studies: Active seniors seek to travel and go hiking

Takeaways from Japan

OUTLOOK

Ageing in place can be a lonely experience

Companies hope to launch robotic companions to alleviate this

In summary, why should brands target elderly consumers?

About Euromonitor International

Euromonitor International is an independent market intelligence provider. Data, insight and analysis stem from in-the-field research spanning 210 national markets.

Content ranges from the in-depth and country-specific, to key strategic themes with a global range and significance. Products cover a comprehensive range of insights and market data, but can be broadly categorised as:

- Strategy Briefings: Global or regional in scope, and focussing on the most important themes shaping consumer demand, the key markets, competitive environment and future outlook across a range of industries.
- Company Profiles: Analysis dedicated to the world's most significant companies, with detailed insight into their activities, focus of operations, their competitors, their geographic presence and performance.
- Country Reports: For an in-depth understanding of specific countries, whether by industry, economic metrics or consumer trends and lifestyles. These reports cover current trends, consumer demand, market potential and future prospects, with country-specific local insight and comprehensive data, unavailable elsewhere.

For more information on this report, further enquiries can be directed via this link www.euromonitor.com/appliances-for-the-elderly-segment/report.